

Social Security Works for IOWA

Report prepared by Social Security Works and Strengthen Social Security

AUGUST 2010

Acknowledgements

Social Security Works is grateful to the following for producing this report: Daniel Marans, a recent graduate of the Johns Hopkins University and a National Academy of Social Insurance Washington Intern, was the lead researcher whose commitment and excellence drove the project to its successful conclusion; and Frank Clemente, Alex Lawson and Judy Rein at Social Security Works. Kelly Olsen provided editorial support. Arloc Sherman, Senior Researcher, and Paul N. Van de Water, Senior Fellow, at the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities were very generous in providing advice and access to updated poverty data analyzed by the Center. Kirby G. Posey and David Getz, Survey Statisticians with the Income Statistics branch of the United States Census Bureau, generously provided data on the importance of Social Security as a source of income to household units. Alice Wade, Deputy Chief Actuary of the Social Security Administration, with the help of Virginia Reno, Vice President for Income Security at the National Academy of Social Insurance, graciously provided data on the value of Social Security's survivors and disability insurance. Graphic design was provided by Daniel Redding and Rachel Horlick of Magnetic State.

The mission of Social Security Works is to protect and improve the economic status of disadvantaged and at-risk populations, and, in so doing, to promote social justice for current and future generations of children as well as young, middle-aged and older adults. Social Security Works is a project of the Tides Advocacy Fund with generous support from The Atlantic Philanthropies.

The Strengthen Social Security Campaign is made up of more than 60 national organizations and many state organizations, representing more than 30 million Americans. The Campaign is united around core principles, which include that Social Security benefits should not be cut and, instead, should be increased for those who are most disadvantaged.

Social Security Works for Iowa

Debate rages in Washington about how to reduce our nation's growing federal deficit, and pundits and politicians alike propose cutting Social Security.

It doesn't seem to matter that Social Security has not caused the federal deficit, and the program has a $2.5 trillion surplus today, which is projected to grow to $4.2 trillion by 2025.¹ Nor does it seem to matter that the housing equity and retirement savings of many Americans collapsed during the nation's Great Recession. Cutting Social Security's protections – especially for middle-aged and young workers – will undermine Social Security as a financial foundation, and often a financial lifeline.

Social Security is paid for through dedicated taxes contributed by workers and their employers. That is why Social Security is a promise, a bond between generations that belongs to the people who have worked hard all their lives and to their families.

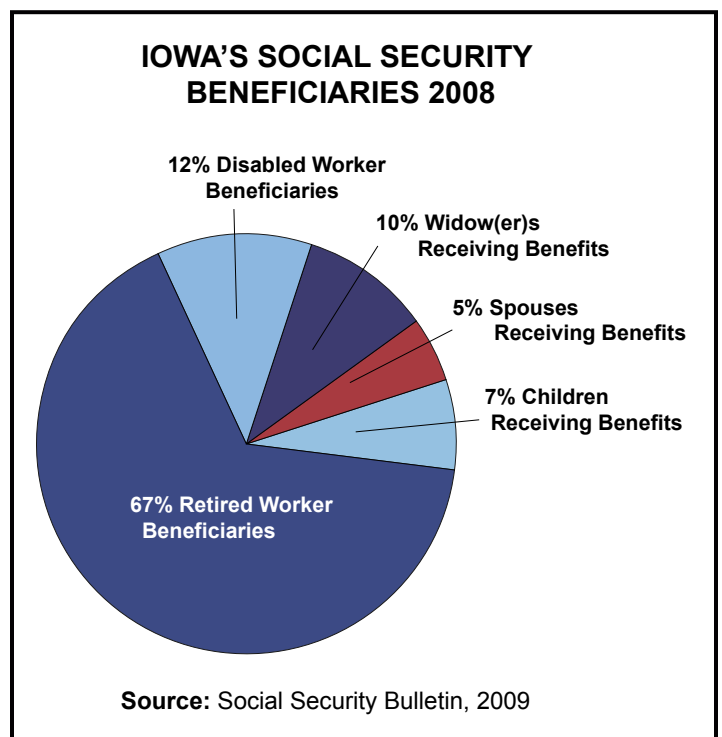

Social Security is family insurance protection against lost wages due to old age, disability, or death. The importance of Social Security's earned protections cannot be overstated:

- 53 million beneficiaries – around one in four households—receive Social Security.²
- 1 out of 3 Social Security beneficiaries is not a senior citizen.³
- Almost two out of three seniors rely on Social Security for half or more of their income.⁴
- The average Social Security benefit is less than $13,000 a year ($14,000 for retirees).⁵
- Social Security is the nation's largest disability

program, without which more than half of disabled workers would have incomes below the poverty line.⁶

- Nearly 9 percent of all U.S. children – about 6.5 million – receive Social Security or live in households where all or part of the income of the household comes from Social Security.⁷ Consequently, Social Security is the nation's largest and, despite its modest benefits, most generous children's program.

Clearly Social Security works for the nation and for the residents of every state and congressional district too. Social Security's average benefit is very modest, which is why America cannot afford to cut it. Instead, Congress should work hard to strengthen Social Security.

Social Security Works for Iowa's Economy

- Social Security provides benefits to about 563,600 people, more than 1 out of 6 residents (18.8 percent).⁸
- Social Security lifts out of poverty a total of 205,000 Iowa residents.⁹
- Iowa residents receive Social Security benefits totaling over $7.2 billion per year, an amount equivalent to more than 5 percent of the state's annual GDP (the total value of all goods and services produced).¹⁰

Social Security Works for Iowa's Retired Workers

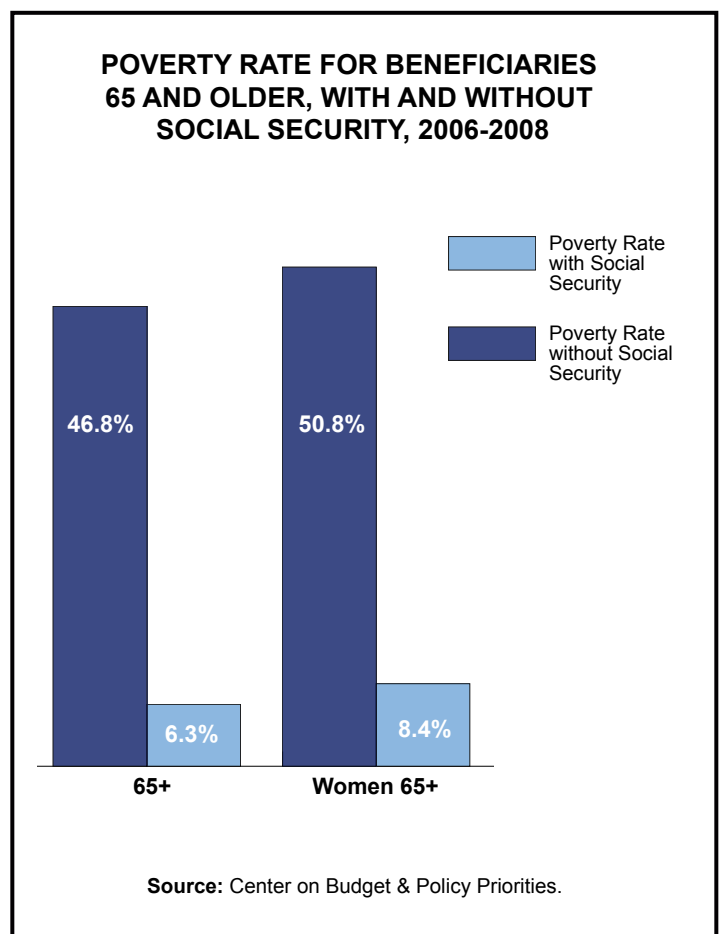

- Social Security provides benefits to nearly 378,400 retired workers, 1 in 8 residents (12.6 percent) and two thirds of all beneficiaries (67.1 percent).¹¹
- The median benefit received by a retired worker in Iowa is about $14,000 annually.¹²
- Social Security lifts out of poverty 157,000 Iowa residents aged 65 and older. Without Social Security, the elderly poverty rate would increase from 1 out of 12 (8.4 percent) to more than 4 out of 10 (46.8 percent) residents.¹³

Social Security Works for Iowa Women

- Social Security provides benefits to nearly 300,700 residents, 1 out of every 5 women (19.8 percent).¹⁴
- Social Security provides benefits to nearly 29,000 spouses, most of whom are women.¹⁵
- Women make up 57.9 percent of beneficiaries aged 65 and older in Iowa.¹⁵
- Social Security lifts out of poverty 93,000 Iowa women aged 65 and older. Without Social Security, the poverty rate of elderly women would increase from 1 out of 10 (8.4 percent) to half (50.8 percent) of all residents.¹⁷

Social Security Works for Iowa Workers with Disabilities¹⁸

- Social Security provides disability benefits for about 65,600 workers, nearly 1 out of 8 (11.6 percent) of all beneficiaries.¹⁹
- The median benefit received by a disabled worker in Iowa is about $11,200 annually.²⁰

Social Security Works for Iowa Widow(er)s

- Social Security provides survivors' benefits to more than 54,000 Iowa widow(er)s, about 1 out of 10 (9.6 percent) of all beneficiaries.²¹
- The median benefit received by a widow(er) in Iowa is about $13,700 annually.²²

Social Security Works for People of Color in Iowa

- In Iowa, more than 1 out of 10 (12.2 percent) African American residents, and more than half (56 percent) of residents who are described as "some other race," receive Social Security benefits, or 9,300 and 22,200 people, respectively.²³
- Nationwide, Social Security provides nearly three-quarters (72.4 percent) of the income of African American households with beneficiaries aged 65 and older, on average. Social Security is 100 percent of the total income for 4 out of 10 (39.5 percent) African American elderly households. Social Security provides three-quarters (75.4 percent) of the total income of Hispanic elderly households, on average. Social Security is 100 percent of the income for more than 4 out of 10 (44.2 percent) Hispanic elderly households.²⁴
- Nationwide, 3 out of 10 (30.1 percent) of all nonwhite beneficiaries, including African Americans and residents who are described as "some other race," receive disability benefits; for white beneficiaries it was about half of that number (15.2 percent).²⁵

Social Security Works for Iowa Children²⁶

- Social Security is the major life and disability insurance protection for more than 95 percent of Iowa's 709,481 children.²⁷
- Social Security provides benefits to nearly 36,700 children, about 7 percent (6.5 percent) of all beneficiaries.²⁸
- Social Security is the most important source of income for the nearly 29,300 children living in Iowa's grandfamilies, which are households headed by a grandparent or other relative.²⁹

Social Security Works for Iowa's Working Families

- Through their hard work and payroll tax contributions, nearly all Iowa workers earn Social Security's retirement, disability and survivorship protections for themselves and their families.
- Social Security is the most valuable disability and life insurance protection for most Iowa workers. Nationwide, an estimated 3 out of 10 working-aged men and 1 out of 4 working-aged women will become severely disabled before reaching retirement age. An estimated 1 out of 11 working-aged men and 1 out of 17 working-aged women will die before reaching retirement age.³⁰
- A 30-year-old worker who earns about $30,000 and who has a spouse and two young children, receives Social Security insurance protection equivalent to private disability and life insurance policies worth $465,000 and $476,000, respectively.³¹
